

2020 Olympic Sailing Competition – Core Events

Men's One Person Dinghy

A Submission from the International Laser Class Association

Purpose or Objective

To provide long term stability allowing developing nations to develop their sailors to a level where they will be encouraged to enter continental Olympic qualifiers. This would further increase the number of 'participating nations' in sailing according to IOC measurements.

Proposal

That the men's one person dinghy shall be a core sailing event for the 2020 Olympic Games

Current Position

None.

Reason

The men's one person dinghy has the probability of delivering the highest number of countries in the qualification events for 2020 including continental qualifications.
